CITY TRUSTEES

Pool Room Question to Appear on Ballot—Proceedings for Improvement of Verdugo Road

All members present. A communication was read from the architect of the city hall requesting the appointment of a committee to meet at the city hall and decide on matters of color and tinting. The chair appointed Messrs. Lane, Williams and Watson. The street superintendent reported having been at work on some of the streets west of Central avenue making temporary repairs. Also recommended procuring sign posts for that section. On motion he was authorized to put in forty corner posts at a cost not to exceed $1.10 each.

City treasurer reported for month of January; referred to finance committee. The matter of giving the people a chance to express themselves in regard to giving permits to pool rooms was discussed. A motion passed instructing the clerk to have the matter put upon the ballot, it being understood that this will be a straw vote merely and not mandatory upon the board.

Application for permit to put in cement sidewalk on west side of Franklin Court, from John W. Henderson, was granted. The report of the Glendale Cons. Water Co. was reported back verified. Going back to the pool room matter, Mr. Coker moved that the ballot bear the question, "Shall the running of pool rooms be authorized in the city of Glendale?" Carried. The report of the Consolidated company was filed for the present. A resolution was adopted closing up the alley running north from Third street to Glendale avenue. A resolution ordering certain street work done on Verdugo road, was referred to the city attorney and laid over for one week. An ordinance changing a portion of the grade of Sixth street east of Adams street was read third time and passed. An ordinance providing for the issuing of bonds in the sum of $40,000 as authorized by recent election, was read third time and adopted. Warrants were reported back from committee approved. An ordinance regulating the running of street railway cars, was read first and second times and laid over. A motion by Mr. Coker was seconded and passed instructing the street superintendent to see that the Glendale and Eagle Rock railway put their track in proper shape where the rails are above the grade of the street.

Also lot 18 in block 3, same tract, facing on Glendale south of Orange Grove. Also lot 21 in block 49, near Sixth street, on the west side of Glendale avenue. It is understood that these were all cash sales, the prices running from $650 to $700. Mr. Eppinger has also sold for Dr. F. E. Burtt, lots 23 and 25 in block 21 for $2,600. These lots are the northwest corner of Fifth and Glendale. It is stated that the purchaser contemplaets the erection of a large apartment house on this corner. There is considerable activity in the Childs tract on Glendale avenue, corner of Lomita, where six new houses are now in course of erection, and a number of lots have recently been sold.

WHEN SAINT VALENTINE COMES.

By J. C. Sherer.

The blood is afire with the Wine of Love,
And the universe bends to adorning
With wealth of the glory that falls from above,
When Saint Valentine comes in the morning.

Oh, great is the wealth of his dower,
On meadows of peace or 'mid rocks of wild strife
The blossom of love is aflower,
And never more sweet is the wealth of his boon
Than when gracious Saint Valentine cometh at noon.

But wait till Saint Valentine cometh at eve,
Oh, ye who still scout at his favor;
The new wine of youth may its victim deceive,
The strong drink at noon lose its flavor;
But if the good Saint comes at end of the day,
He abideth forever, forever and aye!

ANNEXATION DEFEATED

A Mixed Issue—City Officers to be Elected in April—Some Law and Some Gossip

In Glendale City: For annexation 295; against 180.

Outside: For annexation 164; against 235.

Majority for annexation in Glendale, 115; majority against it outside, 71. Thus ended another effort of the progressives of Casa Verdugo to come into the municipality. Unfortunately the issue was mixed so that no one can say without qualification that the majority of the people of Casa Verdugo do or do not favor annexation as a straight issue. The water question was injected into the contest and as this matter is very generally misunderstood it was twisted in various ways with more or less effect. The Thom and Ross ranch was used as a football also, there being a large number of voters of the opinion that this property should be taken into the city in its entirety and others on the contrary who could see no justice in the idea. Altogether it was a great mix up and no doubt there will be others to follow, but in what form the matter may turn up again is at this time in the realm of speculation. One thing does seem evident and that is that there is not relatively as strong an opposition to annexation to Glendale existing on the north of the city's boundary line as there was a year ago and the reason for the change is found in conditions which are apparent but need not be specified. Of course private interests figured in the contest very prominently and effectually, a few individuals doing a lot of hard work throughout the campaign and up to the hour the polls closed. Saturday night's meetings at Casa Verdugo brought the campaign to a close in a blaze of bonfires and oratory. The M. E. church was crowdid beyond its comfortable capacity by an audience composed almost entirely of Antis, one or two people of opposite faith essayed to ask quastions but they were treated with scant courtesy. Col. Tom Thornton held the boards during the major portion of the evening, devoting his attention to the "misrepresentations" of the advocates of annexation. He interested the audience all right and his points were frequently applauded. The Glendale band furnished music for the occasion. At Stocker and Central in a commodious tent the Pros had their last rally. A bon fire, music and a well-worked megaphone called a good crowd together which was addressed by C. P. Huey, Esq., A. F. Howard and Mattison B. Jones; Mr. R. C. Sternberg acting as chairman. Senator Leslie Hewitt had agreed to be present but was kept away by pressing business.

The Next Election.

It is not such a long time between elections in Glendale. The next regular election to be held on the second Monday in April (8th) for the selection of three trustees, a city clerk, city treasurer and marshal. The outgoing members of the board are Messrs. Lane, Williams and Watson.

It is understood that Messrs. Lane and Watson are not averse to serving the people for another term, thus accumulating merit if not glory. Mr. Williams authorizes us to say that he will not be a candidate. There will undoubtedly be at least one aspirant from that part of the city west of Central avenue.

It appears just now as if Messrs Lane and Watson would have the inside track, but at the same time there are indications that neither of them will have a walk over, as they are not entirely acceptable to certain interests, and they will probably have a fight for their honors.

The trustees are to be elected for a term of four years, except in the case of the place now filled by Mr. Williams, which is for two years, being the remainder of a four-year term.

City clerk, city treasurer and city marshal are also to be elected, these for a term of two years. The primary election law does not apply to sixth class cities, according to advices received by City Clerk Woodberry, and all nominations must be made by petitions. These must be signed by three per cent of the number of voters voting at the last general election held in the city. This occurred Monday, April 11, 1910, at which time there were 328 votes cast. It will be seen from this that the work of securing the requisite number of voters to a candidate's petition will not be a serious job. This petition must be filed with the city clerk not more than fifty nor less than thirty days preceding the election. The notice of the election shall be published once, not more than forty nor less than fourteen days preceding the election.

A SURPRISE BIRTHDAY DINNER.

On Saturday evening Mrs. George Ward and Miss Lily Ward of 222 West Third street entertained at dinner in honor of the birthday anniversary of Mr. George Ward. When Mr. Ward arrived at home and entered the dining room he found the table surrounded by a number of his friends. He was most completely and agreeably surprised. Decorations were of carnations and ferns. An immense birthday cake formed the centerpiece. Covers were arranged for Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ward of Fourth street, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Addison of Belmont street, Mrs Turner of Verdugo road and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Kelly of Alhambra.

The next meeting will be an informal reception and musical given under the auspices of the membership committee.

Others told in a comical way how they earned a dollar for the league. Refreshments and a social time was enjoyed by all present; about $15 was collected for the benefit of the league.

RECEPTION TO NEW MEMBERS.

The reception to new members held at the Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening last was thoroughly enjoyed by the one hundred or more persons present. The evening was spent by the young people, and some of the older people, too, in the playing of various games. A short program consisting of a violin solo by Master Bode; recitation by Mr. Robert Lyans; piano duet by Misses Ethel and Fern Porter; piano solo by Miss Monica Smith; piano solos by Mr. Geo. Ketterling. Light refreshments were served. It is proposed to hold these receptions after the reception of all new members so that they may become better acquainted with one another.

SOCIETY.

Mrs. Edgar Smith was hostess at an "optimistic party" given Monday afternoon in honor of the M. K. T. Club at her home on West Fourth street. Red and green was the color scheme used. "Optimistic" ideas predominated, and the decorations were artistically arranged. Dainty refreshments were served. Members from Los Angeles, Hollywood, Pasadena and Glendale were present. Assisting Mrs. Smith was Mrs. Edgeley of Los Angeles, formerly a girlhood friend of Ohio.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

The regular meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon Club was held at the Country Club yesterday. After the routine business Mrs. Newcomb gave an interesting report of a reciprocity day at the Sierra Madre Club which she and Mrs. A. W. Tower attended.

Mrs. Hutchinson announced a Japanese entertainment at the K. of P. hall to be given by the philanthropic committee on Feb. 29, to which all members and friends were invited.

The program as scheduled was a lecture on "Arts and Artists of Holland" by Mrs. Mary H. Gridley, but, owing to illness, Mrs. Gridley was unable to be present. Mrs. J. E. Coleman of Los Angeles, the Jane Addams of the West, addressed the club, telling of her work as president of the Rosecrans Club in the Echo Park district in Los Angeles. Mrs. Coleman proved a most interesting speaker, owing to her very apparent interest in her work. She told of many cases of "middle class poor" people whom she had helped, and the great work that is being done by her in this part of the city.

Mrs. Coleman spoke especially of the great need and her desire to establish a home for such unfortunates.

Miss Powers comes from Los Angeles—an old friend of Mrs. G. H. Rowe.

Mrs. Willedd Andrews of Los Angeles sang four beautiful numbers, and was accompanied by Miss Katherine Hobbs of Tropico.

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

We will observe Francis E. Williard Memorial Fund day, Friday, Feb. 16, 2:30 p. m., with Mrs. L. A. Wood, 545 Orange street. In 1898, Feb. 17th, Miss Williard went home. The next national convention held at St. Paul, November, 1898, established "a generous day when all local unions in our land remember" the national Woman's Christian Temperance Union by gifts to the memorial fund, and by its use making possible the home missionary work, by carrying the gospel of white ribbon work to fields that otherwise would be neglected. This fund has been appropriated for work among foreign speaking people, and to maintain a missionary at Ellis Island. Also for work among colored people and among Indians. The work in Alaska and the Philippines has been sustained, new fields reached and financial aid given in prohibition campaigns.

We extend and appeal to the friends of Miss Williard to contribute something for this fund through our local W.C.T.U., who will forward all contributions to the national treasurer for United States temperance missionary work. Send check or money to place of meeting or treasurer. Every one welcome to all our meetings. We desire a large attendance.

Next meeting is the annual (all day) meeting at the home of Mrs. Gaylord's. We desire dues to be paid by that time. Please bear this in mind any who are in arrears and see that it is settled, so we may close our books.

Mrs. Hattie E. Gaylord, Pres.

LIGHTING SYSTEM EXTENSION.

The board of trustees advertise this week for bids for the forty thousand dollars worth of electric lighting bonds for the extension of the system on the west side of town. The lighting department has all plans completed for this work and as soon as funds are available, actual construction will begin. As planned by Manager Lynch, $5500 of this sum will be expended in purchasing the Brand system in that section, extending and adding to present lines will cost $8000; street lights $1500; meters and services, $9000; additions to station equipment $2500; new high tension lines $4000; conduit $700 and $500 for contingencies. This still leaves a margin of $3800 which ought to be increased by premiums received on bond sale.

COUNTRY CLUB OPENING.

Saturday evening the Country Club holds an "opening" session, when the new bowling alleys will be informally dedicated. This does not mean that the alleys are just completed, however, for several members of th club have been practicing for the last fortnight and a number of experts are being developed. The new addition to the attractions of the club promises to add more to the popularity of this organization than anything trat has ever been done at this pleasant place of resort.

MUSICAL RECITAL.

Among the musical events in the near future is the musical recital by Julius Kranz at Glendale high school auditorium, Friday evening, March 8. He will be assisted by Miss Grace M. James, soprano, and Mr. Will Garroway, the well-known pianist, both from Los Angeles.

The Rhode Island Red Club met at the residence of Jos. Stief, and every one was pleased to see the fine birds. Short speeches were made by L. N. Harrison of Pasadena; Fowler of Duarte, and Pike of Los Angeles, and others, of the progress that great breed has made. After the meeting was adjourned refreshments were served, which every one enjoyed.

J. Whytock, veterinary surgeon of Buffelo, N. Y., has located in Glendale for the purpose of practising his profession. He has had many years' experience treating all kinds of domesticated animals, and comes well recommended by our citizens who knew him in the East. His family will move here in the spring.

HIGH SCHOOL

Almost Up to the Three Hundred Mark—Notes of Interest

New students continue to be enrolled, bringing the total up to 294. The latest additions are the following: John Dunn, Escondido high; Clara Pearson, Brawley; Elsie Warder, Lewis Institute, Chicago; Lulu Belden, Niagara Falls; Warren Grassell, Allegheny Prep., Pittsburg; Albert Jackson, Santa Monica

Mr. Taylor and tht classes in agriculture and botany visited Burbank Thursday morning of last week where they inspected the exhibit made by the University Institute train of seven cars that stopped a few hours at that place. The visit proved to be a profitable one, as the boys found much that was interesting and instructive.

The Latin play being prepared by Miss Flood's Latin class will be given on the afternoon of Friday, March 1. Miss Toppy, Latin and history teacher, spent Friday of this week visiting the Los Angeles city schools.

The lecture of Major Byers given at the auditorium Friday afternoon of last week, was of unusual interest. The eighth grade of the Los Angeles city schools had been invited to hear him as were also the members of the G. A. R. and the W. R. C., and these with the students filled the large hall. He held the audience in a state of intense interest for an hour and a half and then when he asked if he should recite his Sherman's March to the Sea, there was a unanimous raising of affirmative hands. He related his thrilling experience during the civil war, his capitivity in Southern prisons and many hairbreadth escapes. After the lecture Mesdames Smith, Hunt and Meeker distributed light refreshments.

Supt. Mark Keppel spent all day Monday at the school; this was his second day's visit within a short time as he found it impossible to visit all the rooms when first here.

H. A. Linscott of Linn Company, and Mr. Cobler of McMillan Co. were visitors this week.

The Senior class is following up its study of the Italian-Turkish situation by debating the question, Resolved, That Tripoli is worth its probable cost to Italy.

The boys put up a good game of basket ball last Saturday when they tackled the Long Beach team and during the first half it looked as if they would win, but the tables turned against them in the latter part and they lost by a score of 29 to 21. Had they won they would be playing the Huntington Beach team for the championship of Southern California, but as it is that honor now lies with the Long Beach players.

The series of interclass track events have been settled, the twelfth year taking first honors followed by the ninth, tenth, eleventh years in regular order.

Ten of the boys have entered for the San Fernando track meet Saturday next.

Miss Lois Foster and Mr. Charles Ross were entertained at dinner on Tuesday evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Frank Lea, who have just returned to Los Angeles from a three months' sojourn in New York and Baltimore. The evening was spent in examining the rare and interesting curios collected during Mr. Lea's ministry in foreign lands and which he has just brought from the East. Among them is a camphor wood seaman's chest which rings a chime of bells as the key turns in the lock.

J. F. McIntyre, after five years' close work as cashier of the Bank of Glendale, has resigned from that position, and is succeeded by Herman Nelson, former cashier of the Exchange Bank of Titonka, Iowa. Mr. Nelson comes with excellent recommendations, and, with his family, will become a full-fledged citizen of Glendale in the near future.

Dr. and Mrs. Leon H. Hurtt of Third street attended the reception and ball given in the Ebell Club House Thursday. The evening was planned by the Daughters of the American Revolution in honor of the visiting delegates who were attending the state convention of the D. A. R. which was held in Los Angeles on Thursday and Friday.

The ladies of the Glendale Bridge Club and their husbands were entertained Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank McKinney. The next meeting of the club will be held at the residence of Mrs. Herbert Smith on Central avenue.

GLENDALE, CAL., FEBRUARY 16, 1912

Did you hear something fall on the further side of the Pacific this week? It was the throne of the Manchu dynasty over in China.

The idea of Chicago as an art center has received a decided impetus during the past week by the discovery there of a woman with a perfect foot.

Folk has withdrawn and Bryan is friendly to the Hon. Champ Clark, we must begin to consider seriously the presidential aspirations of the gentleman from Missouri.

Natural gas is being piped from the Midway Oil fields to Los Angeles. The towns of San Fernando and Burbank have both been applied to for franchises granting permits to lay pipes. This is a part of the enterprise of the Southern California Gas Co.

It is pleasant to note that according to Walter N. Parrish, chief clerk of the state senate, the administration of the state printing office under Friend W. Richardson, has saved the state approximately $20,000 as compared with what under former methods would have been expended for the special session.

THE OVERWORKING OF LINCOLN.

The hodge-podge of the sayings of Abraham Lincoln displayed on the first page of a Los Angeles daily with nothing to indicate that they have been gathered hit or miss from several speeches and writings, instead of being consecutive paragraphs as they appear to be, is little better than rank forgery, while the paragraph referring to capital and labor has the ear marks of being manufactured to suit the present day occasion. We called attention a few weeks ago to the frequency of quotations purporting to be from the sayings of Lincoln, made for the purpose of giving weight to certain theories in regard to which he may have expressed himself, but about which there is room for doubt.

THE LATE AND COMING CONTEST.

There were a number of opera bouffe features in connection with the recent annexation campaign, which, being recalled, ought to appeal to the sense of humor in the surviving combatants and take the bitterness from other recollections. One of these was that awful conspiracy discovered by some great Columbus of the mind, who conceived the idea that, somebody, somewhere, some time, had conceived and was incubating a scheme for the spoliation of his fellow citizens. It is to be hoped that the mental exercise required for this effort will result eventually in a wholesome loosening up of someone's gray matter and a more rational distribution of the particles. A visitor to this part of the planet, from Mars for instance, might rationally inquire what it was all about and wonder at the great expenditure of time and talent, the burning of electricity, bonfires and words. And when he had finally arrived at the meat of the matter he would possibly exclaim: "What fools these mortals be." He would possibly, in his simple Martian way, imagine that the warring forces might have exercised to a little better advantage their heaven-born faculties and come together instead of pulling apart. The question of annexation was not settled by the election, being unfortunately confused with and by other matters, and the question of importance now is, can the lines be so fixed the next time that everybody will be happy? This is not hard to answer, so it may quickly be disposed of by saying—No. Private interests will still demand that their interests be considered first. It is not possible to outline a district that will be satisfactory to everybody. If the proposition was to transport the whole community, free of charge, to heaven on flowery beds of ease, there would still be those who would find fault with the transportation accommodations.

WASHINGTON'S WORDS.

"All obstructions to the execution of laws, all combinations and associations, under whatever plausible character, with the real design to direct, control, counteract, or awe the regular deliberation and action of the constituted authorities, are destructive of this fundamental principle and of fatal tendency. They serve to organize faction, to give it an artificial and extraordinary force; to put, in the place of the delegated will of the nation, the will of a party, often a small but artful and enterprising minority of the community; and according to the alternate triumphs of different parties, to make the public administration the mirror of the ill-concerted and incongruous projects of faction, rather than the organ of consistent and wholesome plans digested by common counsels and modified by mutual interests. However combinations or associations of the above descriptions may now and then answer popular ends, they are likely in the course of time and things, to become potent engines by which cunning, ambitious and unprincipled men will be enabled to subvert the power of the people, and to usurp for themselves the reins of government; destroying afterwards the very engines which have lifted them to unjust dominion.

Toward the preservation of your government and the permanency of your present happy state, it is requisite, not only that you steadily discountenance irregular oppositions to its acknowledged authority, but also that you resist with care the spirit of innovation upon its principles, however specious the pretexts. One method of assault may be to effect, in the forms of the constitution, alterations, which will impair the energy of the system and thus to undermine what cannot be directly overthrown." In his remarkable and prophetic farewell address, Washington pointed out the dangers to which the republic would be subject and our history for a hundred years has vindicated his wisdom. He first called attention to the absolute necessity of holding fast to the union of states, and the very danger which he uttered a warning against culminated in our civil war, the result of which justified his warning. Then comes this appeal for a steadfast adherence to the principles on which the government was founded, as set forth in the constitution. Then he takes up the subject of the power of the various departments of the government, pointing out the danger that lies in the temptation of one department to encroach upon the other, which he says "tends to form a real despotism," and concludes this part of his address as follows: "But let there be no change by usurpation, for though this in one instance may be the instrument of good, it is the customary weapon by which free governments are destroyed. The precedent must always greatly overbalance in permanent evil any partial or transient benefit which the use can at any time yield."

Reading over these words of one of the greatest of statesmen, it is not difficult to note the difference of the views expressed therein from the ideas of th leaders of "progressive" political thought today.

ASTRONOMY FOR BEGINNERS.

No subject that can occupy the attention of the human mind is more fascinating than the study of astronomy, and there is no subject that repays more richly even a little serious attention devoted to it. To the ordinary observer the stars and the planets are all merely specks of brightness in the sky that appear after the light of the setting sun has faded out, but as it is written in the Book of Books, "one star differeth from another star in glory." Not many who observe them in a casual way stop to consider even the ordinary rising and setting of these bright orbs, nor the cause of their apparent motion. Why the pole star should retain apparently its place in the firmament surrounded by a few faithful attendants, while the most of the others sink below the horizon to their setting and rise again at different points in the East, is a question that does not claim the attention of many among the great majority of us who are content to accept the facts of nature as they are. The earth in passing through space does not move merely from west to east, thus giving all the other celestial denizens in space an apparently contrary motion, but swings on an axis that seems at one end to be hitched to the North Star which the people living north of the equator have always in view. Between eight and nine o'clock these February evenings, there is a brilliant display directly overhead, stretching all the way from the pole star down into the Southwest. In the northeast within about three hours of the zenith hangs the familiar Dipper with its handle down near the horizon, the last two stars in the bowl pointing to the pole star in one direction and to Regulus in the constellation of Leo in the other. This line bends a little but is correct enough for identification; and speaking of Leo (the Lion) it is in this constellation that the Leonides, or November "shooting stars" are to be seen. Twelve hours later the dipper will have two stars in its handle out of sight below the horizon, the faithful "pointers" in the bowl continuing to point to Polaris, but at that time they will apparently point upward from the horizon. Cassiopeca is just northwest of the zenith.

Coming southward a little toward the west, the constellation of Perseus is encountered and a little ways southeast from this group is the bright star Capella of the first magnitude in the constellation of the Charioteer. Further southeast Castor and Pollux, the Twins are seen. The familiar Orion is now one of the most noticeable objects in the evening sky, as noticeable as the Dipper itself and nearly as familiar; this is a little to the westward of south, easily recognizable by the three bright stars that form the "belt." The great star Sirius blazes in the southwest, the brightest star in the heavens. Half way up to the zenith from Sirius is Canis Minor, the Little Dog. Westward from the zenith and half way down to the horizon is the Pleides and near by southeastward is the constellation of Taurus, with Aldeberan as its premier star. But just now Aldeberan has a rival close by in the shape of the planet Mars, very similar to the star in color and brightness, both being red. At 10 o'clock on the 24th the moon passes close to Mars.

NOTICE OF SALE OF ELECTRIC RAILROAD FRANCHISE.

Notice is hereby given that application has been made to the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, for a certain franchise granting the right to construct, maintain and operate, for the term of forty-four years, an electric railroad upon certain public streets in the said City of Glendale, hereinafter described, together with certain appurtenant and incident rights hereinafter mentioned, and that it is proposed by the said Board of Trustees to grant the same upon the terms and conditions hereinafter mentioned; that said franchise is described as follows, to-wit:

A franchise to construct, maintain and operate for the period of forty-four years an electric railroad for the transportation of passengers, to be single or double-track in whole or in part, at the option of the grantee thereof, or his or its successors or assigns, over the route and along and upon the streets or portions of said streets in said city described as follows, to-wit:

Commencing in the center of Brand Boulevard and Fourth Street, thence west on Fourth Street to Pacific Avenue, thence southerly along Pacific Avenue to Vine Street, thence along Vine Street to the westerly city limits.

Together with the right to construct curves and switches, and spur tracks into private property; also connections at street intersections, power houses, and all other appliances, property, structures and attachments that may be necessary for the purpose of operating said road and enabling it to be as effective as the best electric railroad; provided, however, that no spur track into private property shall be built within five hundred (500) feet of any spur track already constructed under said franchise without first securing proper consent of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale.

That the terms and conditions upon which said franchise will be offered for sale and granted are the following, to-wit:

First. That the railroad to be constructed and operated under said franchise shall be used for the transportation of passengers, baggage, United States mail, express matter and such other commodities as can be conveniently handled by an electric railroad, provided that cars other than closed ones of a neat and attractive design shall only be conveyed over said road between the hours of 9 o'clock p. m. of each day and 6 o'clock a. m. of the following day; also such material as is used in the construction and maintenance of railways.

That the tracks to be laid under said franchise shall be placed as near equi-distant from the center of the street as possible, and where said road is double-tracked, as near each other as a proper regard for safety will allow.

Second. That said grantee or his or its successors and assigns shall use good material in the construction of said road, and said road shall be built in a good and workmanlike manner, and that said grantee and his or its successors and assigns shall, at his, its or their own cost and expense, oil and re-oil, pave or macadamize the said road between the rails, between the tracks and for two (2) feet on each side thereof, with the same material used for the city and under the same specifications and in the same manner as upon the streets over which said roads are respectively, and shall keep the same constantly so paved or macadamized and in repair flush with said streets and provided with suitable crossings, and shall make the roadbed conform at all times to the established grade of said streets; provided, however, that where any of the above named streets have been graded or otherwise improved prior to the granting of said franchise, said roadbed and rails shall conform to and be flush with the surface of said graded or otherwise improved street or streets, whether such surface be above or below the official grade of said street or streets, and on all other street or streets the said roadbed and rails shall conform to such official grade as aforesaid.

In case the said grantee or his or its successors and assigns shall fail to comply with the instructions given for said repairs for ten (10) days after service of notice thereof upon the Superintendent or Manager of said electric railroad, then the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale may, with suitable assistance, enter upon said electric railroad, or any portion thereof, and do the work and furnish the proper material and keep an itemized account of the cost thereof, which said grantee, or his or its successors or assigns, by the acceptance of this franchise, agrees to pay immediately to the Treasurer of the City of Glendale upon the presentation of the account to the Superintendent or Manager of said electric railroad.

Provided further, that cars shall be run over the road constructed under said franchise every day, unless prevented by the elements, riots, strikes, or unavoidable causes; provided, also, that cars shall be run over and upon said road at intervals of not more than one (1) hour, from 7 o'clock a. m. until 10 o'clock p. m. of each day, and as much oftener as may be necessary to properly accommodate all persons who apply for transportation over said road, except in times of extraordinary and unforeseen amounts of travel.

Provided, further, that said grantee and his or its successors and assigns shall have the right to excavate and remove portions of said streets necessary to properly construct said road and to erect needful apparatus, boilers, engines, and other appliances to properly equip and run said road; provided, further, that the City of Glendale, in granting said franchise, expressly reserves the right to pave, macadamize, renew or sewer any of said streets, or to lay gas, water or other pipes therein; said work to be done so as to injure said road as little as possible.

It is further provided that said grantee, and his or its successors and assigns, shall construct all necessary flumes and culverts for the free passage of water under the tracks of said railroad whenever and wherever necessary, and that all such flumes and culverts shall be constructed in accordance with plans and specifications approved by the City Engineer.

Third. That the grantee of said franchise, and his or its successors or assigns, shall and will at all times upon and after the completion of said road, during the operation of the same, and without extra charge, issue to and receive from passengers going in one directions, transfers good for one continuous passage over and upon any and every other line and lines or any other road or roads operated entirely within the said city, which said grantee or his or its successors or assigns does now, or may hereafter own, control, operate or have a controlling interest in, and provided, as further condition, that said grantee, and his or its successors or assigns, shall and will at all times as aforesaid, issue, or cause to be issued to said passengers, without extra charge, a similar transfer from any and every other line or lines operated entirely within the said city, which said grantee, or his or its successors or assigns, does now or may hereafter own, control, operate or have a controlling interest in, as aforesaid, to, over and upon the road operated and maintained under said franchise.

Fourth. That the rate of fare for any distance within the city limits over said road or its branches one way in the same direction shall not exceed five cents per one passenger; that persons under the age of eighteen years who attend the public schools of said city shall be required to pay but half fare; provided, that said persons shall purchase their tickets in quantities of at least one dollar's worth at a time, such tickets to be available only between the hours of 8 o'clock a. m. and 6 o'clock p. m. in actual passage to and from school, and the said grantee, and his or its successors and assigns; shall sell such tickets whenever requested so to do, when schools are in session, by a pupil who shall present a certificate from a teacher, approved by the principal of such school, that he or she is a pupil of the said school; provided further, that said grantee, his or its successors or assigns, shall carry free on said cars the City Marhall and deputies, and all regular police officers, and firemen of said city, when on duty, and the Board of Trustees and letter carriers, subject at all times to the rules of the road.

Fifth. That the person, partnership, or corporation to whom said franchise is granted or awarded, his or its successors or assigns, shall, during the life of said franchise, pay to the City of Glendale, in lawful money of the United State, two per cent of the gross annual receipts of said grantee and his or its successors and assigns, arising from the use, operation or posession of said franchise, but no percentage shall be paid for the first five (5) years succeeding the date of this franchise, but thereafter such percentage shall be payable annually, and said franchise is to be forfeited by failure to make the payments provided for, and it shall be the duty of the grantee of this franchise, his or its successors and assigns, to file with the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, at the expiration of six (6) years from the date of granting of said franchise, and at the expiration of each and every year thereafter, a statement, verified by the oath of said grantee, his or its successors or assigns, and by the oath of the Manager or presiding officer of said grantee, or his or its successors or assigns, showing the total gross receipts or gross earnings collected or received by the said grantee, his or its successors or assigns, during the preceding twelve (12) months, and within ten (10) days after the time for filing such statement it shall be the duty of said grantee, his or its successors or assigns, to pay to the City Treasurer of the said City of Glendale the aggregate sum of said percentage upon the amount of the gross annual receipts arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise.

Provided, that if the road for which said franchise is granted shall be an extension of an existing system of railroad, then the gross receipts shall be estimated to be one-half of the proportion of the total gross receipts of said system which the mileage of such extension bears to the total mileage of the whole system, and said estimate shall be conclusive as to the amount of the gross receipts of such extension.

Sixth. That the work of constructing said road shall be commenced in good faith within not more than four (4) months from the date of the granting of said franchise, and shall be prosecuted thereafter in good faith and without unnecessary or avoidable intermission or delay, and that said work of construction shall be completed within not more than three years thereafter, and if said work be not so commenced, prosecuted and completed within the times, or in the manner specified, such franchise shall be forfeited.

Seventh. That all poles used in the construction and operation of said electric road shall be placed within the curb line of the streets herein designated as officially established by the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, and the outer edge of poles shall in all cases be set as near the inner edge of the curb as practicable, when not otherwise directed by said Board of Trustees, and the wires suspended from said poles shall not at any point be less than nineteen (19) feet above the top of the rail; said poles shall be smooth, straight, and painted in uniform color.

That any neglect, failure or refusal to comply with any of the conditions of said franchise shall thereupon, ipso facto, effect a forfeiture thereof, and the said city, by its Board of Trustees, may thereupon declare the franchise forfeited, and may exclude said grantee and his or its successors and assigns from further use of the streets of said city, under said franchise, and said grantee and his or its successors and assigns shall thereupon and immediately surrender all rights in and to the same, and said franchise shall be deemed and shall remain null, void and of no effect.

Notice is also hereby given that sealed bids in writing will be received for said franchise up to 7:30 o'clock p. m. on the 1st day of April, 1912; that the bids received will be opened at that time; that all bids must be for the payment of a stated sum in gold coin of the United States; and that the franchise will be struck off, sold and awarded to the person, firm or corporation who shall make the highest cash bid therefor; provided only, that at the time of opening said bids any responsible person, firm or corporation, present or represented, may bid for said franchise a sum not less than ten per cent above the highest sealed bid therefor, and that said bids so made may be raised not less than ten per cent by any other responsible bidder, and said bidding may so continue until finally said franchise shall be struck off, sold and awarded by said Board of Trustees to the highest bidder therefor in gold coin of the United States. Each sealed bid must be accompanied with cash or a certified check, payable to the City Treasurer of the City of Glendale, for the full amount of said bid, and no sealed bid will be considered unless said cash or check is enclosed therewith, and the successful bidder must deposit at least ten per cent of the amount of his bid with the City Clerk before said franchise will be struck off to him, and if he shall fail to make such deposit immediately, his bid will not be received, and will be considered as void, and said franchise will then and there be again offered for sale to the bidder who shall make the highest cash bid therefor, subject to the same conditions as to deposit as above mentioned. Said procedure will be had until said franchise is struck off, sold and awarded to a bidder who shall make the necessary deposit of at least ten per cent of the amount of his bid as herein provided. Said successful bidder shall deposit with the City Clerk, within twenty-four (24) hours after the acceptance of his bid, the remaining ninety per cent of the amount thereof, and in case he or it fails to do so, then the said deposit theretofore made will be forfeited, and the award of said franchise will then and there, by said Board of Trustees, be again offered for sale to the highest bidder therefor, in the same manner and under the same restrictions as hereinbefore provided, and in case said bidder fails to deposit with the City Clerk the remaining ninety per cent of his bid within twenty-four (24) hours after its acceptance, the award to him of said franchise will be set aside, and the deposit theretofore made by him will be forfeited, and no further proceedings for the sale of said franchise will be had until the same shall be re-advertised for sale.

Notice is also hereby given that the successful bidder for said franchise must, within five (5) days after said franchise is awarded to him, or it, file with the Board of Trustees a bond running to said city in the penal sum of Fifteen Hundred Dollars ($1500), with at least two good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by said Board of Trustees, conditioned that said bidder shall well and truly observe, fulfill and perform each and every term and condition of said franchise, and that in case of any breach of condition of said bond, the whole amount of the penal sum therein named shall be taken and deemed to be liquidated damages, and shall be recoverable from the principal and sureties upon said bond. If said bond be not so filed, the award of said franchise will be set aside, and any money paid therefor will be forfeited.

By order of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, made at a regular meeting of said Board on the 5th day of February, 1912.

G. B. WOODBERRY,
City Clerk of the City of Glendale.

A Spunky Poet.

Ramsey Colles in a book about Ireland tells the story of a man whom he met in a public house. This person, without the formality of an introduction, presented himself to Mr. Colles as a poet. He then presented the following as a sample of his manufacture:

You should always keep yer hosses on the go.
The sure and steady pace,
It's that as wins the race.
You should always keep yer hosses on the go.

Mr. Colles was not disposed to admit that the improvisatore had made his claim good.

"Why not?" said this person. "Hasn't it more sense than some of the poetry made by Swinburne or Yeats? Yeats wrote:

With her to an isle in the water I would go.

"Now," he continued, "why did she lay the dishes in a row instead of one on top of another? Simply because the poet must find a rhyme to 'go.' And where on earth should an isle be but in water?"

Inhospitable Siberian Peasants.

The Siberian peasant, and we have stayed or lived in fourteen of his villages and had dealings with another score, is not hospitable. He, or rather his wife, will not dream of cooking any food specially for a well paying guest. It needs a distinct effort to obtain boiled eggs. A plate of soup is more the exception than the rule. Butter and milk are frequently refused in a prosperous agricultural village, and there is no joint of meat or fish. Though earning over 50 shillings a week, a family will eke out existence on bread and tea, with an occasional treat of piroushkies, or hashed meat balls. You pay at a posthouse double the government's scheduled price for victuals, and the man and his wife grumble. In one instance—there is no space to detail more—a woman met us at the door with a saucer we had used, bearing an age old black crack, and demanded money on the ground that we had caused it.—Cor. London Express.

CHAPTER XV.

NEWS OF JOAN.

A WEEK after the Upolu's departure the Malakula dropped anchor, and her skipper came ashore for a game of billiards and to shock Sheldon with the little surprise born of information he was bringing with him.

Captain Auckland played the billiards first, and it was not until he was comfortably seated in a steamer chair, his second whisky securely in his hand, that he let off his bomb.

"A great piece that Miss Lackland of yours," he chuckled. "Claims to be a part owner of Berande. Says she's your partner. Is that straight?"

Sheldon nodded coldly.

"You don't say? That is a surprise! Well, she hasn't convinced Guvutu or Tulagi of it. They're pretty used to irregular things over there, but—ha! ha!"

"There is nothing irregular about it. It is an ordinary business transaction." Sheldon strove to act as though such transactions were quite the commonplace thing on plantations in the Solomons. "She invested something like £1,500 in Berande"—

"So she said."

"And she has gone to Sydney on business for the plantation."

"Oh, no, she hasn't."

"But didn't the Upolu sail?"

"The Upolu sailed all right." Captain Auckland sipped his whisky with provoking slowness, "only Miss Lackland wasn't a passenger."

"Then where is she?"

"At Guvutu last I saw of her. She was going to Sydney to buy a schooner, wasn't she?"

"Yes, yes."

"That's what she said. Well, she's bought one, though I wouldn't give her 10 shillings for it if a nor'wester blows up, and it's about time we had one."

"'HOLD ON,' SAYS I, 'WAIT TILL I SEE MY OWNERS.'"

"What schooner? Where is it? How did she happen to buy it?"

"First, the schooner Martha," the skipper answered, checking his replies off on his fingers; "second, the Martha is on the outside reef at Poonga-Poonga, looted clean of everything portable and ready to go to pieces with the first bit of lively sea, and, third, Miss Lackland bought her at auction. She was knocked down to her for 55 quid by the third assistant resident commissioner. I ought to know. I bid 50 myself for Morgan and Raff. My word, weren't they hot!

"'Twenty,' says I for my bid. 'Twenty-five,' says the little girl. 'Thirty,' says I. 'Forty,' says she. 'Fifty,' says I. 'Fifty-five,' says she. And there I was stuck. 'Hold on,' says I; 'wait till I see my owners.' 'No, you don't,' says she. 'It's customary,' says I. 'Not anywhere in the world,' says she. 'Then it's courtesy in the Solomons,' says I. And then she smiles at Burnett as well—you know, one of those fetching smiles, and damme if Burnett doesn't begin singing out, 'Goin', goin', goin'—last bid—goin', goin' for 55 sovereigns—goin', goin', gone—to you, Miss—er—what name, please?'

"'Joan Lackland,' says she with a smile to me, and that's how she bought the Martha."

Sheldon experienced a sudden thrill. The Martha, a finer schooner than the Malakula and, for that matter, the finest in the Solomons—she was just the thing for recruits, and she was right on the spot. Then he realized that for such a craft to sell at auction for £55 meant that there was small chance for saving her.

"But how did it happen?" he asked. "Weren't they rather quick in selling the Martha?"

"Had to. You know the reef at Poonga-Poonga. She's not worth tuppence on it if any kind of a sea kicks up, and it's ripe for a nor'wester any moment now. The crowd abandoned her completely. You know Malaita, and you know Poonga-Poonga. That's where they cut off the Scottish Chiefs and killed all hands. There was nothing to do but take to the boats. The Martha missed stays going in, and inside five minutes she was on the reef and in possession. The niggers swarmed over her, and they just threw the crew into the boats. I talked with some of the men. They swear there were 200 canoes around her inside half an hour and 5,000 bushmen on the beach. Said you couldn't see Malaita for the smoke of the signal fires. Anyway, they cleared out for Tulagi."

"But why didn't they fight?" Sheldon asked.

"It was funny they didn't, but they got separated. You see, two-thirds of them were in the boats, without weapons, running anchors and never dreaming the natives would attack. They found out their mistake too late."

"But what is Miss Lackland intending to do."

Captain Auckland grinned.

"She's going to try to get the Martha off, I should say, or else why did she pay 55 quid for her? And if she fails she'll try to get her money back by saving the gear spars, you know, and patent steering gear and winches, such things. At least that's what I'd do if I was in her place. When I sailed the little girl had chartered the Emily. 'I'm going recruiting,' says Munster. He's the skipper and owner now. 'And how much will you net on the cruise?' asks she. 'Oh, 50 quid,' says he. 'Good,' says she. 'You bring your Emily along with me and you'll get 75.' You know that big ship's anchor and chain piled up behind the coal sheds? She was just buying that when I left. She's certainly a hustler, that little girl of yours."

"She is my partner," Sheldon corrected.

"Well, she's a good one, that's all, and a cool one. My word! A white woman on Malaita and at Poonga-Poonga of all places! Oh, I forgot to tell you. She palavered Burnett into lending her eight rifles for her men and three cases of dynamite. You'd laugh to see the way she makes that Guvutu gang stand around. And to see them being polite and trying to give advice! Lord, Lord, man, that little girl's a wonder, a marvel, a-a-a catastrophe. That's what she is—a catastrophe. She's gone through Guvutu and Tulagi like a hurricane. Every last swine of them in love with her, except Raff. He's sore over the auction, and he sprang his recruiting contract with Munster on her. And what does she do but thank him and read it over and point out that, while Munster was pledged to deliver all recruits to Morgan and Raff, there was no clause in the document forbidding him from chartering the Emily.

"'There's your contract,' says she, passing it back. 'And a very good contract it is. The next time you draw one up insert a clause that will fit emergencies like the present one.' And Lord, Lord, she had him too!

"But there's the breeze, and I'm off. Goodby, old man. Hope the little girl succeeds. The Martha's whacking fine boat, and she'd take the place of the Jessie."

The next morning Sheldon came in from the plantation to breakfast to find the mission ketch Apostle at anchor, her crew swimming two mares and a filly ashore.

"Miss Lackland sent them," said Welshmere, the missionary doctor, stepping ashore and shaking hands with him. "There's also a box of saddles on board. And this letter from her. And the skipper of the Flibberty Gibbet."

The next moment and before he could greet him Oleson stepped from the boat and began.

"She's stolen the Flibberty, Mr. Sheldon. Run clean away with her. She's a wild one. She gave me the fever. Brought it on by shock. And got me drunk as well."

Dr. Welshmere laughed heartily.

"Nevertheless she is not an unmitigated evil, your Miss Lackland. She's sworn three men off their drink or, to the same purpose, shut off their whisky. You know them—Brahms, Curtis and Fowler. She shipped them on the Flibberty Gibbet along with her."

"She's the skipper of the Flibberty now," Oleson broke in. "And she'll wreck her as sure as God didn't make the Solomons."

Dr. Welshmere tried to look shocked, but laughed again.

"She has quite a way with her," he said. "I tried to back out of bringing the horses over. Said I couldn't charge freight, that the Apostle was under a yacht license, that I was going around by Savo and the upper end of Guadalcanar. But it was no use. 'Bother the charge,' said she. 'You take the horses like a good man, and when I float the Martha I'll return the service some day.'"

"And 'bother your orders,' said she to me," Oleson cried. "'I'm your boss now,' said she, 'and you take your orders from me.' 'Look at the load of ivory nuts, I said. 'Bother them,' said she. 'I'm playin' for something bigger than ivory nuts. We'll dump them overside as soon as we get under way.' What I want to know is she your partner or ain't she? That's what I want to know."

"She is," Sheldon assured him.

"Well, who'd have believed it! I've seen a few unlikely things in these Solomons—rats two feet long, butterflies the commissioner hunts with a shotgun, ear ornaments that would shame the devil and head hunting devils that make the devil look like an angel. I've seen them and got used to them, but this young woman of yours"—

"Miss Lackland is my partner and part owner of Berande," Sheldon interrupted.

"So she said," the irate skipper dashed on. "But she had no papers to show for it. How was I to know? And then she's hired them drunken loafers, three of the worst scoundrels that ever disgraced the Solomons—15 quid a month each—what d'ye think of that? And sailed away with them too! Phew! You might give me a drink. The missionary won't mind. I've been on his teetotal hooker four days now, and I'm perishing."

Dr. Welshmere nodded in reply to Sheldon's look of inquiry, and Viaburi was dispatched for the whisky and siphons.

"It is evident, Captain Oleson," Sheldon remarked to that refreshed mariner, "that Miss Lackland has run away with your boat. Now please give a plain statement of what occurred."

"Right O. Here goes. I'd just come in on the Flibberty. She was on board before I dropped the hook—in that whaleboat of hers with her gang of Tahiti heathens, that big Adamu Adam and the rest. 'Don't drop the anchor, Captain Oleson,' she sang out. 'I want you to get under way for Poonga-Poonga.' I says, 'Excuse me, Miss Lackland,' and yells for'ard 'Let go!'

"And then we had it out. I didn't believe her. I didn't think you'd take her on as a partner, and I told her as much and wanted proof. She got high and mighty, and I told her I was old enough to be her grandfather and that I wouldn't take gammon from a chit like her. And then I ordered her off the Flibberty. 'Captain Oleson,' she says, sweet as you please, 'I've a few minutes to spare on you, and I've got some good whisky over on the Emily. Come on along. Besides, I want your advice about this wrecking business. Everybody says you're a crackerjack sailorman'—that's what she said—'crackerjack.' And I went in her whaleboat, Adamu Adam steering and looking as solemn as a funeral.

"On the way she told me about the Martha and how she'd bought her and was going to float her. She said she'd chartered the Emily and was sailing as soon as I could get the Flibberty under way. I was to sail direct for Poonga-Poonga and if I couldn't take her word that she was your partner she'd get along without me and the Flibberty. And right there's where she fooled me.

"Down in the Emily's cabin was them three soaks—you know them—Fowler and Curtis and that Brahms chap. 'Have a drink,' says she. I thought they looked surprised when she unlocked the whisky locker and sent a nigger for the glasses and water monkey. But she must have tipped them off unbeknownst to me, and they knew just what to do. 'Excuse me,' she says; 'I'm going on deck a minute.' Now, that minute was half an hour. I hadn't had a drink in ten days.

"Well, anyway, at the end of the half hour down she came again and took a good squint at me. 'That'll do nicely,' I remembered her saying, and with that she took the whisky bottles and hove them overside through the companionway. 'That's the last,' she said to the three soaks, 'till the Martha floats and you're back in Guvutu. It'll be a long time between drinks. And then she laughed.

"She looked at me and said—not to me, mind you, but to the soaks: 'It's time this worthy man went ashore'—me! Worthy man! 'Fowler,' she said, 'just tell Adamu Adam to man the whaleboat, and while he's taking Captain Oleson ashore have your boat put me on the Flibberty. The three of you sail with me, so pack your dunnage. All hands got me over the side, and it seems to me I went to sleep sitting in the stern sheets and watching that Adamu steer. Then I saw the Flibberty's mainsail hoisting and heard the clank of her chain coming in, and I woke up. 'Here, put me on the Flibberty,' I said to Adamu. 'I put you on the beach,' said he. 'Missie Lackalanna say beach plenty good for you.' And now I've come to find out whether I'm skipper of the Flibberty or that chit of yours with her pirating, heathen boat's crew."

"Never mind, skipper. You can take a vacation on pay." Sheldon spoke with more assurance than he felt. "If Miss Lackland, who is my partner, has seen fit to take charge of the Flibberty Gibbet, why, it is all right. As you will agree, there was no time to be lost if the Martha was to be got off. It is a bad reef, and any considerable sea would knock her bottom out. You settle down here, skipper, and rest up and get the fever out of your bones. When the Flibberty Gibbet comes back you'll take charge again, of course."

St. Andrews' Bottle Dungeon.

St. Andrews is perhaps the most distinctive of the old castle towns of Scotland. It was built early in the thirteenth century, and it was here that Bishop Kennedy showed James II. how to break the power of his nobles by taking a bundle of arrows, separating them and slapping them one by one. In Stewart Dick's "The Pageant of the Forth" the author says: "Under the sea tower, in the heart of the rock where it juts into the sea, is a grewsome dungeon known as the 'Bottle dungeon,' so called from its shape. In the floor of the lower room in the tower is a hole five feet in diameter. Down it goes for nearly twelve feet. The neck of the bottle then widens out to form a chamber nearly twenty-four feet in breadth. There is no light, no ventilation, no exit of any kind but the neck of the bottle. A prisoner there had no more chance of escape than a crab has in a creel."

A Hindu Dinner Party.

A Hindu ladies' dinner begins at 12 o'clock and lasts two hours. But the guests begin to assemble some time before the dinner, for the simple reason that they have to go into the garden and choose their own fruit and vegetables. Meat, by the way, is forbidden. The chief dish at a dinner party is composed of rice and maize. The guests sit on the floor in two rows, facing one another, and eat with their fingers. The most esteemed widow lady present hands round the dishes, and this service is considered a great honor. Cocoanut milk and various kinds of sherbet are drunk. When the meal is over the ladies take a small portion of betel nut wrapped in "pan" leaves. Pan is a green leaf something like laurel, and is prepared in no fewer than eighty different ways. Each of those ways is supposed to give a different emotion to the eater.

The Decline of Winchester.

Winchester for five centuries was the active rival of London, and for 400 years English parliaments occasionally sat in the castle, which contains the round table of King Arthur. It was a city with great temples and the site of the first Christian church in Britain. Its buildings were of the most magnificent character, and pilgrims flocked from far and near to the magnificent cathedral which contained the body of St. Swithin and where many miracles were worked.

William the Conqueror and Charles II. had palaces here, and within the monastery were buried King Alfred, his queen and two sons. Winchester has indeed fallen upon evil days, for at the present time its population is only the same as it was in the days of Henry II.—Sheffield (England) Telegraph.

Arctic Marine Plants.

The inhabitants of the ocean, like those of the land, are affected by the climate. Arctic land plants cannot flourish at the equator, and in the arctic and the antarctic oceans marine plants are found that are unable to survive in warm water. Among the most remarkable of these cold water plants are the laminariaceae, a kind of seaweed, which sometimes attains a gigantic size, exceeding in length the longest climbing plants of the tropical forests and developing huge stems like the trunks of trees. Investigation has shown that these plants flourish in the coldest waters of the polar seas and that they never advance farther from their frigid homes than to the limits of "summer temperature" in the ocean. The genial warmth destroys them just as a polar blast shrivels tropical flowers.

Cleaning an Ocean Liner.

Probably few people are aware that during the few hours a great ocean liner remains in dock she is cleaned thoroughly inside and out. The hull is repainted, the funnels scraped and cleaned and every piece of exposed metal polished. Meanwhile all carpets are taken up and beaten, the floors scrubbed and repainted and tables repolished, chairs regilded and stained, in every part of the ship. On the great boats there are more than 30,000 pieces of linen to be counted, sorted, prepared and laundered. Then there are 15,000 pieces of silverware, 25,000 pieces of glassware, some 60,000 dishes, plates, cups, saucers, etc. As soon as a piece shows signs of wear it is discarded and replaced, and all this work has to be done in a few hours.—Pearson's Weekly.

Slips of the Tongue.

In a case tried before a magistrate in Glasgow the defending agent made reference to a verbal agreement between the parties. "Let's see yer verbal agreement," the magistrate said. "Hand it up here."

At a parish council meeting, when a petition for some increase of wages was under consideration, the chairman said peevishly: "A canna mak' heid nor tail o' this dockyment. It's jist like Alphy and Omegy—it's got neither beginning nor end."—Glasgow Herald.

CALIFORNIA—A RHAPSODY.

California, the brightest star in the contellation of states. The land of the vine, fig and olive, receiving its baptismal name from the dreamy mists of romance. Virtually the modern Goshen. In climate and productions a reminder of the Holy Land of Scripture. From the time of that bold Spanish navigator Gabrillo, and Sir Francis Drake, on down to the golden days of '49, the poetic history of California has had woven into its woof the spirit of adventure. Her conquests have been made in the fanciful and the real. Over seas and in all lands her name signifies the Alpha and Omega of men's desires. To reach her golden shores is the dream of mankind today throughout Christendom. In this sunset land, this land of prosperity and contentment, let the glories of this Eden fill the earth to the uttermost. Let the fruits of her soil make happy the people of less favored climes. Let California as she holds aloft this golden Horn of Plenty and rocks the cradle of promise in art, literature and science, bid welcome within her borders the worthy of good citizenship. L. Croasdale.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

Office of the Secretary.

February 21, 1912.

DISEASE OF HONEY BEES.

The United States department of agriculture calls attention to the fact that American foul brood and European foul brood has been found to exist in Los Angeles county. The department has no means of knowing how long the disease has existed in the region, but desires to notify beekeepers of the trouble and to suggest that, if not already informed concerning the disease, they inform themselves at once. Very frequently colonies of bees are destroyed by disease and the loss is attributed by the bee keeper to some other cause. Farmers' Bulletin No. 442, the "Treatment of Bee Diseases," gives a description of the brood diseases and methods of treatment. It will be sent free on request to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Attention is also called to the fact that the brood diseases do not at all injure honey for human consumption, so that there need be no fear on the part of purchasers of honey.

The last number in the League Lecture Course will be given at Filger's Opera House, Tuesday evening, Feb. 20, when Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher will deliver his celebrated lecture, "How To Be Happy, Though Married." Admission 25 cents.

PROTECT THE CHILDREN.

The city trustees are considering an ordinance designed to cover the small methods of gambling which are in vogue at some places in Glendale. Presumably they would not have done anything in regard to the matter had it not been for the fact that the petty lottery schemes in connection with the sale of candy appeal to children of very tender years as well as to the older ones. It is certainly demoralizing for these infants, not yet out of their knickerbockers, to be lured so early in life into the hope of getting something for nothing. The gambling in a small way at cigar stands that mature men indulge in is an entirely different proposition and need not be made the subject of regulation, but when it becomes a question of protecting the youngsters the city trustees cannot move too swiftly.

SOCIALISM

PRODUCTION COMPARED.

The Socialist in seeking a way for a fuller expression of human life finds most people have a deficiency of two very essential things, viz., things to enjoy and time in which to enjoy them. Further inquiry shows that the reason for the scarcity of things in their possession while at first seeming very complex is (in terms of the wages system) because their wages are too low. And the scarcity of time in which to enjoy things is because they are compelled to labor too long for the paltry wages they receive.

A hundred years ago people lived. They toiled many hours per day, it is true, but they never toiled more than 24. Food was scarce at times, no doubt, but somehow our ancestors seem to have handed us down a physical structure quite equal to that which is being handed on by the present generation. Whatever apparent handicaps the people had then we still must remeber that they lived.

And now, a hundred years later, man's productive ability has been increased by the invention of labor-saving devices more than one hundred fold, according to such eminent authorities as Herbert Spencer, W. J. Ghent and Richard T. Ely, et al.

And yet men, women and children toil on. It is true that in some trades the hours of labor have been reduced from 10 to 8, but in many others they are yet working 12 and in some cases as high as 16.

Man, now a hundred times as strong as he was a century ago, measured by his productive ability, and still obliged to work 12 hours per day to secure a living!

Can you explain this, Mr. Republican?

What have you to offer that will right this palpable wrong, Mr. Democrat?

The Socialist insists that in order to secure the fullest expression of human life people must have sufficient to eat, must be comfortably clothed, well housed, must have education, travel, literature, music, and as before stated, sufficient time in which to enjoy these things. Is it not clear from what has been shown that sufficient could be produced and leave to each worker a much larger measure of time then they now have if a proper distribution existed? But nearly everybody is busy, even though the hours are long for many. The answer is that statistics show that here are in the United States approximately 2,000,000 men constantly in involuntary idleness. Two million men seeking employment which they cannot find!

Again, statistics show that the per centage of those employed in useless occupations (that is duplicating work which could be eliminated, and doing things which in no way minister to the human welfare) is so great as to be almost unbelievable.

Again, the era of invention seems to be drawing to a close for the same reason that it was stopped once before for approximately 4000 years and many of our late labor saving inventions are not being used for reasons best known to the trust magnates.

From the very best authorities we glean the facts that with good business sense applied to providing the human family with the wherewith to satisfy its desires, with the duplication eliminated, and the otherwise useless labor directed to useful channels, the necessities and comforts of the race can be provided by a workday so short as to be almost unbelievable.

The foregoing suggests several questions. What was the cause of a cessation in the development of the tools of industry at a time so early as the first introduction of slavery? Why is there a cessation imminent now? What is the best plan of organizing industry in order to secure the greatest efficiency and economy—competition or co-operation? How would it be possible to arrange industry so that none may be in enforced idleness. And other questions.

An understanding of the answers to these questions is very desirable. It leads, however, toward an understanding of Socialism, which to the overworked and underfed is all-important.

TROPICO

Mrs. Alfred Hezmalhatz is passing some time with her mother, Mrs. Batbrick of Palmer avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Hills of 1050 North San Fernando road left the first of the week for Salt Lake City, where Mr. Hills has accepted a position.

Irving W. Freeman, traveling salesman for the Armour Fertilizer Company, has taken possession of his fine new home at Glassell Park.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Appleby of 1500 Riverdale Drive entertained a sister and niece of Mr. Appleby, Mrs. J. N. Hancock and Miss Martin of Wisconsin, recently.

Reports are being circulated in the political world of Tropico that Daniel I. Nofziger has announced his intention of running for trustee of this place at the next regular election.

A boy by the name of Murphy, living at the home of H. L. Segar, 1551 Hawthorne street, ran away from his home Tuesday, and up to the time of going to press has not been heard from.

Mr. Pruse, who for the past year has been a resident of this place, has leased a small store room belonging to Peter Gabaig, on the west side of San Fernando road, where he will open an electrical fixture store.

Work will start within a short time on the fine new home to be erected by Omer S. Richardson at the corner of Cerritos avenue and San Fernando road. This site is where the old Richardson home stood for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Lunn of Glendale avenue entertained at their home, last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Defendorf of Irwindale and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whitney of Los Angeles, recently of the East.

A memorial service will be held in the G. A. R. hall on Glendale avenue next Sundayq afternoon at 3 o'clock. This gathering will take place to honor the names of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington. The meeting will be in charge of the G. A. R. of the valley.

The first meeting of the Fraternal Brotherhood lodge of this place in the new Knights of Pythias hall on San Fernando road will be held tonight. The lodge is planning on having a very elaborate event. Invitations have been issued to a limited number of residents of this valley.

Tropico was alive with moving picture actors last Wednesday—a little more so than other days this week. A company of twenty-five came out from Los Angeles Wednesday and passed the day in going through all kinds of stunts before the picture box. The company was entertained at the Tropico "beanery" at lunch.

We understand that the trustees of Tropico have called an election to vote on the question of whether or not the people of this place will incur a debt of $20,000 for the construction of an electric lighting plant for this city, and that the election will take place on the 12th day of March.

An auto party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Deal, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Peter, Mr. and Mrs. Davenport, Dr. and Mrs. Conrad, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Stine, Mrs. Molaire, Miss Blanche Davenport and Allen Davenport enjoyed a trip to Point Fermin last Sunday, where they enjoyed to the full the merry song of the sad sea waves.

TROPICO CIVIC LEAGUE.

Tropico Civic League will hold a meeting at the Tropico school house on February 29th at 3:15. Alexander Irwine will speak on "The Municipal Ownership of Railroads."

TROPICO CHAPTER OF P. E. O. MEETS.

The first regular meeting of the new P. E. O. chapter was held Friday, Feb. 9, at the home of Mrs. Luella M. Bullis. After a short business session, Mrs. Edith Munchberger, president of the Glendale chapter, gave a very helpful little talk, and the meeting adjourned for the social hour.

TROPICO METHODIST ITEMS.

The quarterly conference of this church was held in the church auditorium last night. Dr. Mather, district superintendent, was in charge of the meeting.

The Home Missionary Society of the church will meet in the church next week.

Arrangements are being completed for the dinner which will be held in the G. A. R. hall on Glendale avenue by the Ladies' Aid of the church from 5:30 till 8 o'clock on the evening of Feb. 22. During the progress of the dinner games will be played and musical and literary numbers will be given.

The subject for next Sunday at this church will be: Morning, "Lifting up a Standard for the People." In the evening the regular preaching service will take place.

SPRAINS ANKLE IN FALL FROM CAR.

While returning from Glendale last Saturday afternoon, Mrs. S. C. Brown of 1245 Blanche avenue had the misfortune of falling while alighting from the electric car and spraining her right ankle. In addition to the sprain, a small bone was broken, which will necessitate the ankle being kept in a plaster cast for at least two weeks.

Mrs. Brown attributes her acicdent to the crowded condition of the car on which she was riding. Getting on at Glendale, with two small children, Mrs. Brown was compelled to stand, there being no unoccupied seats, a condition which is characteristic of the Glendale line. Arriving at Park avenue, she worked her way through the crowd of people standing near the exit. The children reached the ground with safety, but when Mrs. Brown was alighting the car started, throwing her to the ground with considerable force. With the aid of the children she was able to reach her home. Dr. C. E. Young of Glendale was summoned and attended to the injured member.

PYTHIANS OPEN NEW HALL.

Undoubtedly the most elaborate society event of the season was the opening of the new Knights of Pythias hall in the Gabaig block last Monday evening. The event was enjoyed by more than 500 persons, including members of the order and their friends, and each departed wishing the order all success and promising support and aid.

The hall was prettily decorated with the colors of the lodge. A pleasing feature was the appearance of the uniform rank of the local lodge, dressed in their regular lodge costume. During the early part of the evening a number of difficult drills were given by these uniform officers. Time and again the spectators applauded the team for the splendid manner in which it executed the difficult figures.

The program of the evening consisted of the following: Speech, Judge Ralph W. Schoonever, grand prelate of the Knights of Pythias of California; address, Col. Kenton A. Miller, colonel of the Seventh Regiment of California, and residing in Los Angeles; whistling solo, Mrs. T. V. Watterson of Eagle Rock; piano solo, Mrs. M. T. W. Arfwedson of Glendale; vocal selection, Miss Ida May Oderlan of Eagle Rock; piano duet, Miss Laura and Master Walter Hibbert; sketch, W. J. Hibbert and Owen Rhodes; piano selections, Miss Mabel Miner of Eagle Rock; sword and Indian club drill, W. C. Wattles.

J. A. Spence, who for the past term of six months has served the chapter in a faithful manner, was presented by Judge Schoonever with a past chancellor's jewel, a reward for faithful work.

At 10 o'clock the work of feeding the 500 began, and in this feature of the evening's entertainment the young men proved that they were very capable of taking care of themselves—and others. Long tables were prettily arranged in the banquet room, and here about fifty guests were taken care of at each sitting. To simplify the matter of accommodating the people at supper, tickets were given out, the first fifty to eat at the first table, etc. The refreshments were of the finest order. Everything was of the kind that mother used to make, and everyone went away from the hall satisfied.

After the program the remainder of the evening was devoted to conversation and dancing.

The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Messrs. A. M. Watson, F. H. Davis, G. A. Dodson, W. J. Hibbert and George Marck.

WEST GLENDALE

Mrs. J. O. Elliott recently spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Dan Schull, in Los Angeles, who are here from Omaha, Neb., for the winter.

The many friends of Mrs. E. B Jones will be glad to know that she has so far recovered from her recent accident as to be able to leave for her home in San Bernardino.

We wish to correct an item placed in last week's News in regard to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Owens having rented property on Hawthorne street, expecting to occupy the same in a short time. Mr. Owens has since made other arrangements.

There seems a demand of late from a great many people for room and board or a small suite of roms for light housekeeping. Scarcely a day passes but several inquiries are made. It seems from this that Glendale must have about all her room taken, but needs a "lean-to" annexed in order to care for the extras.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davidson, of Kansas, have been visitors recently at the home of Mr. Davidson's sister, Mrs. Wm. Hyatt, on West Fourth street. Much of the time was spent in trolley trips throughout the different towns and beach resorts and a most delightful time in general. Mr. Davidson is a very successful farmer and stock raiser of Kansas, he having gone there with nothing more than a span of mules, but is now able to ship away the same kind of animals by the carload. If he can find something suitable, he will remain in California. They are now visiting in Oakland.

SCHOOL NOTES.

In a recent base ball game between the boys of the West Glendale School and those of Burbank, "our boys" came out ahead, and are ready to try again. Several new pupils entered school during the past week. There will be no holiday on Feb. 22 (Washington's birthday). Regular school in the morning, and exercises appropriate to the day in the afternoon. The children are looking forward to the spring vacation, which will come about the middle of March. The regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association was held on Thursday, Feb. 15, of which an account will be given in the News next week.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

In honor of the seven happy years that she has just passed, little Marjorie Yarick entertained a few of her friends with a birthday party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Yarick, 1447 West Third street, on Tuesday, Feb. 13, 1912. There were games of various kinds to delight the little folks and to help pass away the afternoon, but the real, genuine "party," in their little eyes, came when they were all seated at the table filled with dainties—cake, cream, candies, and all kinds of goodies—and over which they enjoyed themselves to their hearts' content. The little lady received many birthday gifts. Those present were: Anna Merriken, Ruth Elliott, Dorothy Houston, Elizabeth Houston, Theodora Carryon, Denise Berry, Pauline Berry, Louise Berry, Edith Bayly, Marjorie Yarick, Wayne Yarick, Mrs. M. E. Hesser, Mrs. C. W. Houston, Mrs. V. E. Skiles, Mrs. M. J. Jackson and Mrs. H. W. Yarick.

In a letter recently received rfom Huntington Beach we find that beach city going ahead. A great deal of building is going on. There is to be a fine new grammar school erected at once, and the city is about to vote upon bonds for a new $7000 pier, which will be of concrete and steel, and twenty feet wide till the last hundred feet, and then widened to fifty feet; length 2,000 feet. The beet sugar factory is doing a great amount of work, making special refined sugar. The factory employs a large force of men, and has been the means of many families making their homes at Huntington Beach. This letter is received from a former West Glendale boy, who speaks in the highest terms of the high school there, of which he has been a student for the past two years. (He wants to know if Glendale has changed any in that time.)

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

"The Girl and the Boy," a New Musical Comedy.

For the first time on any stage, "The Girl and the Boy," a new musical comedy by Walter DeLeon, will be presented at the Grand Opera house, for the week beginning Sunday matinee, February 18th. "The Girl and the Boy" is the second effort of Mr. DeLeon. That it will prove even a greater success than was his initial musical play, "The Campus," is the statement made by the critics who have been privileged to witness some of the rehearsals during the past two weeks. As in "The Campus," Mr. De Leon has departed from the beaten path in writing "The Girl and the Boy." He has imparted in the play the very essence of the spirit of youth, writing a story which is complete in evtry detail and logical in sequence and climax. The music is bright and pleasing and written in Mr. DeLeon's best style. There are fifteen big musical numbers in the two acts of "The Girl and the Boy" and each number is bound to find popular favor. The scenes of the play are laid at a summer resort at the seashore. This gives some idea of the character of the scenic investiture and costumes which will be in the brightest of colors.

COST OF PRODUCING ORANGES.

According to the figures given by G. Harold Powell of the California Citrus Protective League, there is not much money in raising oranges. He has tabulated the returns from a large number of orchards with the following result:

Cultural cost	$0.8633
Cost of picking, hauling and packing	.4304
Cost of freight	.528
Average cost of refrigeration, 1910-11	.0789
Average cost of selling	.070
Total cost per box laid down in the market	$2,2706

The average number of oranges of all varieties per box is approximately twelve and one-half dozen. The average wholesale cost of California oranges laid down in the markets of the United States, based on the cost of production, cost of transportation and cost of selling is $0.181 per dozen.
